

NED UNIVERSITY OF ENGINEERING & TECHNOLOGY

Welcome Note!

It is a pleasure to send you NED QEC's 2nd news letter of 2016. We hope to make this a regular feature, and are looking forward to your feedback and comments. Its purpose is to publicize NED and QEC activities among students and faculty members of the University.

Introduction:

NED University of Engineering & Technology is among the oldest institution of engineering education in Pakistan. It is one of the first higher education public sector engineering institution, who realised the importance of quality management and procedures in engineering education. With this vision, NED University opted for ISO-9001 certification in 1998 and finally got certified in 2002. NED University is about to complete a decade of providing engineering education, following rigorous standardised quality management procedures, to meet the satisfaction of their customers (i.e. students in particular and industry in general).

After the advent of Quality Assurance Agency of Higher Education Commission (QAA HEC), NED University also adopted their requirements related to quality in education along with already in practice ISO Quality Management System.

QEC Objectives:

Quality Enhancement Cell (QEC) is responsible for the review of quality standards by auditing academic standards and the quality of teaching and learning in each subject area.

The core objectives of QEC are:

i) To ensure quality education at the University as per NED University Quality Policy.

ii) To review quality standards and the quality of teaching and learning in each subject area.

iii) To ensure the accomplishment of the requirements of Accreditation Councils and Regulatory Bodies.

iv) To ensure that the quality and standards for the award of degrees are of international standards.

Quality Management and Assurance in the University (QMC)

Introduction

NED University of Engineering & Technology has established a well-designed quality management system with an effective and efficient mechanism of the quality assurance. The Quality Management Cell (QMC) of the University is performing the assigned duties and carrying out its activities with the principle objectives of customers' satisfaction, continual improvement and conformance to the standards. The QMC is working with vision to develop the University as a world class institution of higher education, research and development in Engineering and relevant fields by employing best quality assurance measures and contribute effectively in building-up the required indigenous technical capabilities according to the national and international requirements.

After the advent of Quality Assurance Agency (QAA) of Higher Education Commission (HEC), the University has also established the Quality Enhancement Cell (QEC) and adopted the QAA requirements related to quality in education in addition to the 'Quality Management System' already in practice. The role of Quality Enhancement Cell (QEC) is to assist the University in improving research and teaching by continuous enhancement of academic standards under HEC guidelines. The QEC is involved in activities related to curriculum development, teaching and research quality, admission policies, examination policies and process control, in general.

Activities and Achievements

- 1) Seminar on 'Road Map for Hazardous Materials and Dangerous good Safety Management during Transportation in Pakistan (Vision-2050)
- 2) One of the FYP group has won 3rd prize in DICE 2016 Mega Innovation & Entrepreneurship Event, NUST Islamabad (as the details of student to put here with title of project and)

Functioning of the Quality Management and Assurance System

Both the QMC and the QEC are making all possible efforts for proper implementation of the Quality Management and Assurance System in the University; details as follows:

1. Besides the University Act, the Statutes and the Regulations, the Quality System Procedures (QSP) and Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) have been prepared for the major functions of the University and the functioning of teaching and non-teaching departments respectively.
2. In addition to the routine functions, all the teaching as well as non-teaching departments are assigned the Yearly Objectives together-with Action Plans defining a sequence of activities of the whole year.
3. Preparation of the Self-Assessment Reports (SARs) of all academic programmes of the University and subsequent assessment followed by the corrective and preventive actions.
4. All the prescribed University processes and systems are checked quarterly through Internal and External Audits with the help of trained Internal Quality Auditors and well-qualified External Auditors of Lloyds Register Quality Assurance (LRQA) respectively. The corrective and preventative actions are planned over the observations and non-conformities detected in the audits. The planned actions are then carried out and checked in the subsequent audits.
5. The Customer Feedback Surveys are carried out for all academic programmes and other major activities/ processes. The Feedback Reports are discussed in the management review meetings.
6. The management review meetings are held in each quarter at the departmental levels and twice in a year at the University level.
7. The training sessions are also organised throughout the year in order to ensure capacity building of the faculty and staff members as well as for the improvement in both quality of services and efficiency of University personnel.

Major Achievements of the QMC and the QEC

1. Placement of QEC-NED in 'W' Category

Quality Assurance Agency (QAA) of the HEC assesses the progress of the QECs of all Universities through a quantitative 'Scorecard System' based upon their performance and participation in quality-related processes. During the reporting period, the University QEC has been assigned a score of 90.65% with a placement in 'W' Category.

2. Online Feedback System for Postgraduate Students

Quality Management Cell with collaboration of IT Department has developed the Online Feedback System for Postgraduate Students and implemented it from Spring Semester 2016. The newly developed Online Survey will save unnecessary usage of paper and will also reduce efforts for compiling and analysis of the data.
