

Welcome Note!

It is a pleasure to send you NED QEC's second news letter of 2016. We hope to make this a regular feature, and are looking forward to your feedback and comments. Its purpose is to publicise QEC activities among students and faculty members of the University.

Introduction:

NED University of Engineering & Technology is among the oldest institution of engineering education in Pakistan. It is one of the first higher education public sector engineering institution, who realised the importance of quality management and procedures in engineering education. With this vision, NED University opted for ISO-9001 certification in 1998 and finally got certified in 2002. NED University is about to complete a decade of providing engineering education, following rigorous standardised quality management procedures, to meet the satisfaction of their customers (i.e. students in particular and industry in general).

After the advent of Quality Assurance Agency of Higher Education Commission (QAA HEC), NED University also adopted their requirements related to quality in education along with already in practice ISO Quality Management System.

QEC Objectives:

Quality Enhancement Cell (QEC) is responsible for the review of quality standards by auditing academic standards and the quality of teaching and learning in each subject area.

The core objectives of QEC are:

i) To ensure quality education at the University as per NED University Quality Policy.

ii) To review quality standards and the quality of teaching and learning in each subject area.

iii) To ensure the accomplishment of the requirements of Accreditation Councils and Regulatory Bodies.

iv) To ensure that the quality and standards for the award of degrees are of international standards.

Inside this issue:

Welcome Note	1
Introduction	1
QEC Objectives	1
Training arranged by QEC	2
Email Address & Website	2

HEC Indigenous On Campus Training on “Communication Techniques”

QEC arranged a 03 Day training workshop on “Communication Techniques” on 25- 27 May, 2016. The training was attended by the Office Staff form teaching as well as non-teaching departments of NED University. The aim of this workshop was to create awareness about the importance of Modern “Communication Techniques” among the participants. Following topics were also covered: Interpersonal Communication, Principles of Effective Communication, Verbal and Non-verbal Communication, Written Communication, Routine letters, emails, Messages, Memos, Notice, Agenda and Minutes of Meeting etc.

HEC Indigenous On Campus Training on “Procurement Procedures”

QEC at NED University organized HEC Indigenous On Campus training program “Procurement Procedures” on 31st May to 2nd June, 2016. The training was conducted by Senior officials of Sindh Public Procurement Regulatory Authority. A total of 64 participants from managerial cadre attended the training. The aim of training was to create awareness among participants regarding the public procurement Procedures; ensure an open, transparent and compliant process and achieve continuous improvement on all categories of expenditure through a transparent and fair procurement process. The training was funded by the Higher Education Commission, Islamabad

QEC Email address & Website

Quality Enhancement Cell (QEC) can now be reached at: dirqec@neduet.edu.pk. Kindly use this email address for all queries/ questions/ concerns related to QEC.

For updates related to QEC at NED University of Engineering & Technology, please visit our website : <http://www.neduet.edu.pk/QMC-OEC/index.html>.

